Pininfarina's 70th Anniversary, Ferrari president Luca di Montezemolo said: "I asked Sergio

Pininfarina to present a design for a front engine 12 cylinder Ferrari roadster that would capture the spirit of the classic road races of the past, and cars such as the 166 MM, 250 GT California and 365

GTS4 Daytona." Pininfarina duly proposed the 550, a car that combines the coupé's powerful design with a refined interpretation of barchetta styling cues - this is a car destined exclusively for open use.

The result surpassed expectations, so it was decided to name it after the coachbuilder in his honour, the 550 Barchetta Pininfarina.

Echoing the design of classic Ferraris of the past, the 550 Barchetta maintains the powerful profile of the 550 Maranello while incorporating minor body changes to reflect the individuality of its limited production run. The windscreen is r
