This delightful example of the increasingly rare early 1960s Volkswagen Beetle comes from a private collection in Tuscany and is described by its owner as in excellent condition throughout, as the previous owner had reportedly spent some € 14,000 on the restoration. Finished in light grey with a matching white and grey interior the focus was obviously on originality as the original 6 Volt electrical system has been retained, a detail which is so often lost on restored cars. With just two owners from new this Beetle will surely find an appreciative third owner.

Questo delizioso esemplare del sempre più raro Maggiolino dei primi anni '60 arriva da una collezione privata in Toscana e viene descritto dal proprietario come in condizioni eccellenti, poiché ci dicono

che il precedente proprietario
