Always considered to be an automobile that is sure to provide fun; that is part of the appeal of the long-running Alfa Romeo Spider series. The car has a style all of its own and is responsive with the throttle, corners beautifully, turns plenty of heads and has plenty of pep. It is shared that this soulful machine is best experienced driving down a winding road on a sunny day with the top down; an easy task to bear.

Finished in attractive green with tan interior, matching boot and black canvas soft-top; this Spider Veloce is a two-owner car in original condition. Driven by the 2.0-liter, 120-hp DOHC inline four-cylinder engine, it is paired with a five-speed manual transmission. The Pininfarina styling is reflected throughout this stirring auto. Among the features are air conditioning, Jaeger instrumentation, dual sport mirrors; power windows, steering and four-wheel disc brakes. The wheels are factory alloys that have a style sometimes referred to as "telephone dial." It is reported that 3,640 similar cars were built in this model year.
