Beschreibung

The letters “RS” attached to a Porsche 911’s moniker have long indicated a special, racing-oriented version with high-performance hardware. Introduced for 2015, the 991-generation 911 GT3 RS continued that theme, featuring unique front-fender louvers, rear-quarter air intakes, and an adjustable rear wing. The use of carbon fiber for the fenders, engine cover, and trunk lid, along with a magnesium roof reduced curb weight, while the 911’s performance envelope was pushed even further via a 500 hp, naturally aspirated flat six teamed up with a seven-speed, dual-clutch automatic gearbox.

Wearing striking Ultraviolet paint and fitted with black seats upholstered in leather and Alcantara highlighted with silver stitching, this 991 GT3 RS is a virtual time capsule car, displaying just 53 miles at the time of cataloguing. Further adding to its allure are a number of desirable options, including LED headlights, carbon ceramic brakes, front-axle lift system, an extended range fuel tank, and aluminum pedals.

Offered by way of a significant private collection, this one-owner GT3 RS shows fastidious care and comes complete with books, CARFAX Vehicle History Report, and a Porsche Certificate of Authenticity. Presenting in pristine condition and equipped with many desirable options, this 991 GT3 RS merits serious consideration from even the most discerning enthusiast.
