Beschreibung

Chassis no. 1488298

Engine no. FIAT AB 214 1645420 Important collector's car with a known history that has all the relevant certifications.

The car has Abarth Classiche certification of originality.

Still with its original color combination of white over red faux leather interiors.

The bodywork underwent a complete professional restoration several years ago. It is in splendid condition.

The interiors are restored, and the work was done in full respect of the original features. Restored mechanics.

Still equipped with all the original accessories and details.

Accompanied by a chronological account of its history, which is completely known. It was originally purchased in Perugia by a bank manager, before moving to Potenza, his birthplace, where it was re-registered in March 1973 and assigned the plates it still wears today.

Still equipped with its original toolkit, complete with original jute canvas bag.

In many cases it is difficult to piece together the complete history of a car, which can be a considerable problem in the case of Abarths, given that, in many cases, their originality is questioned. However, this does not apply to this particular 850 TC, which is still completely original, has been restored using all its own parts, and comes with plenty of documentary evidence that confirms its status beyond doubt. It would be practically impossible to find another in such conditions.
