First hand - less than 9,300 kilometers
Extremely rare model - Already collector French title

This Mercedes-Benz SLR McLaren Roadster was purchased new by its current owner in 2008, via the United States, the model being no more unavailable in Europe. It was thus registered for the first time, on May 24, 2008, in Paris. Scrupulously kept by its owner, between Paris and London, it has been regularly maintained in the dedicated network and now displays 5,750 miles on the odometer, making less than 9,300 kilometers in total. Recently, the key was replaced by McLaren following a programming fault, a duplicate will have to be requested from the manufacturer. Today, the car is displayed in near-new condition, both in terms of bodywork and interior. The silver gray paint shows only a very slight sheen on the muzzle and the red leather interior is like new. It is equipped with four optional rims of the model that fitted the 722 S, these are in good condition despite some slight friction.

This 2008 Mercedes-Benz SLR McLaren Roadster is a rare and particularly desirable model, a first-hand showing less than 10,000 kilometers on the clock, coming with a full tracking record and in near-new condition!
