The company C . P. Candiani Paladin of Padua, owner of the Hermenson brand name, active since the second half of the 2010s for the manufacture of elegant and robust bicycles, seized the opportunity to produce reinforced frames to accommodate auxiliary micromotors and produced several models to which you could apply Itom engines and Mosquito Garelli micromotors. The proposed model is Garelli powered. Restored and since then presumably never used. A general mechanical check is recommended before use.
