
12th October 2002 - Auction Preview - Luzzago

30 September 2002 | Classic Driver

Brescia auction house and classic car dealer Luzzago are holding an auction on the 12th October that features, as you would expect, much Italian exotica ranging from a selection of Alfa Romeo Giulietta spiders, through a rare Lamborghini Urraco P200, to the miniscule Fiat 500 'Giardiniera'.

Top billing probably goes to a 1959 Aston Martin DB4, with an estimate of 63,000 Euros, closely followed by a pair of Ferrari 250 GTEs, one 1959 and one 1963. It is nice to see these elegant cars, often the course car at Le Mans or Monaco, sold in their original form and not as GTO 'clones'.

Convertible models from Porsche, Mercedes and Jaguar fill out what looks to be an interesting mix of cars with a model to suit all budgets.

Preview by Steve Wakefield

Please see the Provisional Auction Lotlist

<https://www.classicdriver.com/en/article/12th-october-2002-auction-preview-luzzago>

© Classic Driver. All rights reserved.