Official Ferrari Calendar 2003. "Limited Edition".

The latest Ferrari, "Enzo Ferrari", is the star of the official Ferrari Calendar 2003 "Limited Edition". The Berlinetta, bearing the name of the charismatic company founder, and with a scarce 349 specimens, is being assigned only to select collectors. So "Limited Edition" is also an apt title for the calendar, of which only a few copies will reach the open market. Ferrari classics, like the 288 GTO, F40 and F50 as the Limited Edition GTs of more recent Ferrari history, form the framework. For years now, the numbered and limited calendar edition has enjoyed an almost cult status amongst collectors. A new, specially developed photographic technique presents the four red super sports cars in action shots as they have never been seen before. A brehtaking calendar for the third Schumacher/Ferrari world championship! Price: £ 49.90 (UK despatch included) Format: appr. 70 x 50 cm Limited: 7000 copies.

Collection by Raupp 2003. Limited Edition.

The sixth edition of "Collection by Raupp" also presents a selection of racing cars that we would all love to see in our "virtual garage". The kick here is that collection presents the heroes of the powder smoke from racing battles of the past, in an entirely perfect state of restoration and using the professional photography techniques of today. A selection of the finest, ranging from the Bugatti 51, which helped Louis Chiron win the Monaco Grand Prix in 1931, right through to the myths of the long-distance races of the 50s and 70s: Mercedes 300 SL, Porsche 550 Spider, Lotus 27, Porsche 908, the Le Mans winner Ford GT 40 and Porsche 917 as well as other classics, offer an all-year-round exquisite experience of the great legends of racing. Numbered and limited edition. A must for all classic racing enthusiasts! Price: £ 39.90 (UK despatch included) Format: appr. 70 x 50 cm Limited: 3000 copies.
