Passion. It's the core ingredient in Ferrari's rich history, and for 2008 the Official Ferrari Calendars by Gunther Raupp are full of images of the spirit and sense of adventure that personifies the great Italian marque.

Considered by many to be quite literally the 'Ferrari' of all motoring calendars, the 50 x 70cm, high-quality production is the 24th in the series, with many older editions now highly collectable. The 2008 edition comes in two versions: 'Ferrari Myth' showcases Berlinettas old and new and is limited to just 7,000 numbered editions worldwide, and 'Rosso Corsa' is for devotees of Formula 1.

Each 'Ferrari Myth' calendar is numbered on the title page and clearly presents the history and technical data of every Ferrari shown. It's a must-have for any true devotee of Ferrari road cars and automobilia collectors alike.

The Tifosi and fans of modern F1 will like the 'Rosso Corsa' calendar (one that can be obtained at an attractive price if ordered with 'Ferrari Myth') with its stunning images of all the action on the track and in the pits by celebrated photographers, Rainer W. Schlegelmilch and Paul-Henri Cahier.

Like their subject, the Ferrari Calendars are always in high demand, so buyers should act quickly to avoid disappointment at Christmas.
