Vertu Ascent Ti: Knurled and Checked

02 September 2008 | Classic Driver

Two new mobile handsets were added to the Vertu Ascent Ti Collection over the summer, the Ascent Ti Knurled and the Ascent Ti Checked. Both are inspired by the interior components of luxury sportscars.

The Knurled features a diamond pattern with metallic grey leather, while the Checked offers helix-shaped detailing and is available in deep purple leather. The textured designs are hot-forged into the titanium side-panels of the handsets.

In each case, the stitching and graphics on the keypad are colour-matched to the handset's leather.

The mobile handsets are priced at Euro 6,250. See www.vertu.com.
