

CLASSIC DRIVER

Limited-Edition Prints from Aston Martin

Aston Martin's 'Heritage' division is offering a range of limited-edition prints of original photographs, technical drawings and adverts, taken from its archive. All the prints are individually numbered, while the technical drawings are also signed - and include DB4 and DB5 (signed by Chief Engineer Harold Beach) and DB4GT (signed by Chief Development Engineer of the Racing Department, Ted Cutting).

Photographs include '24 Hours to Go', a hugely atmospheric view of the start of the 1959 Le Mans 24 Hours taken from the pits by Brian Joscelyne, and 'Capital Elegance' - a black-and-white publicity image of the DB5 outside the London Hilton. The advertisements include a 1959 poster promoting the DBR1's 1959 race victories - in this case limited to a print run of just 50.

CAPITAL ELEGANCE

Reproduced on high-quality acid-free paper, each print is accompanied by a signed Certificate of Authenticity and is supplied in a protective tube, ready for framing.

The photographs and signed technical drawings are priced at £196.50 each, with the adverts at just £97.50 - while members of the Aston Martin Owners Club and Aston Martin Heritage Trust can claim a 15% discount. But you need to add VAT plus carriage and packing. See www.astonmartin.com/heritage or call +44 (0)1908 305530.

*Text: Charis Whitcombe
Photos: Aston Martin*

Hide gallery

Hide gallery

Source URL: <https://www.classicdriver.com/en/article/limited-edition-prints-aston-martin>

© Classic Driver. All rights reserved.