Bentley Collection by Ettinger: Fresh Breeze

13 September 2011
Classic Driver

Bentley has created a new colour - 'Breeze' - for the Continental GT Convertible which debuts at this week's Frankfurt motor show. And, to complement the colour, Bentley Collection is launching a small range of exclusive leather goods.

The limited edition range is the creation of Ettinger of London, the family-owned luxury leather company, and aims to reflect Bentley's own quality and design excellence. There's an iPhone case and (clearly not wishing to show favouritism) a Blackberry case, plus a leather loop keyring and key case, all - of course - in Bentley Breeze leather. Each item is, like the car from which it takes its inspiration, designed to give the owner lasting pleasure.
