

CLASSIC DRIVER

Ferrari F12berlinetta 1:43

Lead

Ferrari's F12berlinetta won't be on the roads for a few months yet, but you don't have to wait that long to own one – provided you're of small stature and can make do with 740HP less than the manufacturer claims.

This 1:43 scale model gives you the chance to see Ferrari's ground-breaking new car in the (die-cast) metal – months before full-size examples begin prowling the streets. Given that the F12berlinetta is expected to retail somewhere north of £200,000, the model's price tag seems slightly more reasonable at £244.

The 1:43 Ferrari F12berlinetta is available from the Ferrari store, with deliveries currently being fulfilled one month after order. Also of note in the models section is a 1:8 scale replica of the Ferrari-Powered ARNO XI Hydroplane which is to be auctioned this summer.

Photos: Ferrari

Gallery

Hide gallery

Hide gallery

Source URL: <https://www.classicdriver.com/en/article/cars/ferrari-f12berlinetta-143>

© Classic Driver. All rights reserved.