Description

The 512TR was the final version of the iconic 1980's Testarossa. It was renamed and re-introduced in 1992 as the 512TR and latterly the F512M. Costing £136,000 when new it featured the 4.9 litre four valve per cylinder V12 engine, which gave 428bhp, giving 0-60mph in just 4.9 seconds and then going on to a 195mph top speed.

This UK supplied car has covered 25,250 miles from new and comes to the sale with the original full Ferrari book pack, including all service and instruction books. There are many service bills and invoices in the history file and the paintwork and interior are all described by the vendor as being in excellent order. An MOT history from 2000 and a current one until Feb 2015 accompany the car, as do the V5C and 2 keys.

Rosso Red with Crema is the most popular colour combination for a Ferrari and this model is now gaining price momentum in the market.
