Love is in the air: The spectacular aircraft of the Goodwood Revival

16 September 2013 | J. Philip Rathgen

The Goodwood Revival isn't only about the glory days of motor racing. If it's got wheels and is dated pre-1966, it's celebrated at the Revival. This includes an impressive fleet of significant historic aircraft in the Freddie March Spirit of Aviation exhibition...

Classic Driver photographer Michael Schmid was in situ on the edge of the grassy airstrip, taking exciting shots of triple-engined Junkers and the like.

Of course, it wouldn't be the Revival without Spitfires, Hurricanes and Mustangs buzzing overhead, performing daring manoeuvres to satisfy the crowds.
