Mercedes G-Class Cabriolet Final Edition: All good things...

18 September 2013 | Joe Breeze

Mercedes has announced a run-out edition of G-Class Cabriolets, bringing an impressive 34 years of service to a close...

The 'lifestyle SUV' market is bustling with competition nowadays, but it's more than three decades since the G-Wagon first created the sector by adopting a simple fabric roof. Mercedes will commemorate this with 200 'Final Edition' models of the Cabriolet, all featuring metallic black exterior paintwork with a contrasting beige roof. The interior mirrors this scheme, with quilted beige doorcards and a classic walnut trim being our personal highlights. Unfortunately, all 200 units have already been spoken for, so it looks like you'll just have to wait until one pops up in the Classic Driver Market.
