

CLASSIC DRIVER

Castello Cavalcanti: Wes Anderson pays homage to Fellini - and the 'Molte Miglia'

Lead

Italy, September 1955. In the small town of Castello Cavalcanti, the locals enjoy seeing the cars of the 'Molte Miglia' hurtling past. But then one of the drivers loses control - and fate takes its course...

Great Italian fashion houses and great American directors seem to be pairing up this season. Following Martin Scorsese's 'Street of Dreams' for Dolce & Gabbana, cult director Wes Anderson has now staged a short film for Prada. Jason Schwartzman plays an American racing driver who crashes in a village during the 1955 'Molte Miglia' and only minutes later... Ah, watch it for yourself!

Gallery

Includes video

Has video

Hide gallery

Hide gallery

Source URL: <https://www.classicdriver.com/en/article/cars/castello-cavalcanti-wes-anderson-pays-homage-fellini-and-molte-miglia>

© Classic Driver. All rights reserved.