United Colours of Lamborghini

Lead

Last year, renowned photographer Vlammensee accompanied 350 Lamborghinis on the Grand Tour celebrating the marque's 50th anniversary. Rather than focusing on the 'big picture', he instead trained his lens on individual details – and has now released a book featuring the resulting compositions...

True Lamborghini enthusiasts will claim to recognise the manufacturer's sports cars (and the occasional SUV) by the smallest of details. Now, that claim can be put to the test with Vlammensee's new book 'Lamborghini: 50th Anniversary Grand Tour' which concentrates on specific surface elements – but don't dither, as it's strictly limited to 50 copies. The Dutch photographer also offers large wall prints which are made using Dibond to replicate automotive paintwork, and which are limited to five per image.
