One man, two wheels, four beers: The Lumbürr bicycle

Lead

Picnic season is here – but rather than lug drinks and blankets to the park on foot, why not ride there on a stylish, purpose-built bicycle...?

Based in Toronto, the Lumbürr Co specialises in making Scandinavian-style leisure products by hand. The wooden items are “built around a day at the park – riding bicycles, playing Kubb, and lounging on wool blankets.” Now, the trendy Canadian company has created a bicycle that not only combines the necessities for each activity, but also leaves room for a four-pack of beer.
