Lead

Few sights are more emotion-stirring than a storied warplane in flight many decades after being de-fleeted. Well, except for watching a multi-origin group of them being pushed to their limits for pure entertainment, that is...

Enticed by the billing of Spitfires, triple-engined Junkers, a quartet of ex-Patrouille de France Fouga Magisters, and the world's sole electric plane, Classic Driver sent French photographer Rémi Dargegen to the Airshow d'Ile de France. Browse through the extended gallery above to view the spine-tingling results...
