Artcurial auction at Le Mans Classic 2014: Here's where our €1m would go...

Lead

For weeks now, we've been poring over the pages of the catalogue for Artcurial's sale at the Le Mans Classic 2014. After much deliberation, we've compiled a wishlist with a theoretical budget of €1 million...

As hedge-betting gamblers, we'd immediately put half our stake on red – more specifically, the scarlet Bizzarrini 5300 Strada that serves as one of the headline lots at Artcurial's Le Mans Classic auction. This road-going anti-Ferrari has all the requirements of a high-end collector car with appreciation potential, not to mention a fantastic story behind it. The remaining €500,000 or so would go on nine cars that provide healthy returns in terms of driving pleasure – of course, we're not cold-hearted investors, but real 'classic drivers'.
