Make the Otto lamp by the Urban Light Factory a household highlight

Lead

Ulf Schulz gives old headlights from cars and motorcycles a new lease of life, by transforming them by hand into decorative interior lamps. A fine example is the wooden-tripod 'Otto', whose Bosch unit dates back to the 1920s...

Each lamp comes in a hand-made wooden box with linen lining. Also included is a hand-sewn tool kit, a letter explaining the lamp's history, and a user guide and certificate. Customers can buy ready-made lamps 'off-the-shelf', or provide their own lamps for a bespoke design.
