Jensen Interceptor will return in 2016 as limited-edition GT

Lead

The famous Jensen marque will be relaunched in 2016 with the arrival of the Interceptor 2, the first officially sanctioned model since the company's collapse in 2002...

Another British legend reborn

When the 'all-new' GT arrives next year, it will become the first car to legitimately to wear the famous Jensen badge in 15 years. Built as the result of a collaboration between the Jensen Group – spearheaded by Tim Hearley – and Jensen International Automotive, the Interceptor 2 will arrive 40 years after the launch of its forefather, and carry many elements of its classic design. Specific details surrounding the car have not yet been released but, judging by the images, the car is already at an advanced stage of the design process, having been visualised as a clay model. We'll bring you more news as it comes in.
