

CLASSIC DRIVER

Bandit9 and Konstantin Kofta collaborate in sci-fi style

Lead

Vietnam-based motorcycle workshop Bandit9 has teamed up with Ukrainian fashion designer Konstantin Kosta to showcase their respective wares in a sci-fi setting...

Geometry in motion

Bandit9 caught our eye last year when it revealed ‘Eve’, a minimalist custom motorcycle based on a 1967 Honda SS. Recently, the bike was paired up with a geometric backpack from Konstantin Kofta’s Inertia collection for a photoshoot. The resulting imagery represents an almost utopian-style scene – and highlights Bandit9’s process of taking design inspiration from other creative professions, such as fashion, art, architecture, film and photography. That gives us a little insight into the thinking behind Bandit9’s increasingly madcap motorcycles.

Photos: Wing Chan for Bandit9

Gallery

Source URL: <https://www.classicdriver.com/en/article/bikes/bandit9-and-konstantin-kofta-collaborate-sci-fi-style>
© Classic Driver. All rights reserved.