Stay sharp in the surf with these gentlemen's wetsuits

Lead

In a perfect world, you'd be able to go surfing straight from the office. Reality presents us with only one obstacle: the conflicting choice of attire. Quiksilver of Japan has sought to address this issue, by releasing a collection of suits and tuxedos made from waterproof neoprene...

The True Wetsuits line comprises several different styles, including blue or black, single- or double-breasted and, more elegant still, the dinner jacket – perfect for those gala dinners on the coastline. There are even shirts, pants and ties made from the thick, waterproof nylon fabric.
