03 June 2015 | Jan Baedeker

Every year, a high-calibre jury comprising more than 1,000 chefs, restaurateurs and critics chooses the 50 best restaurants in the world. The latest list has just been revealed, and holding the top places are three old acquaintances...

Three brothers searching for the perfect flavour

First place this year went to El Celler de Can Roca in Girona, Spain. The experimental Michelin-starred restaurant, run by the three brothers Joan, Jordi and Joseph Roca, was last elected in the top spot just two years ago, in 2013. In second place is the Osteria Francescana in Modena, while third position went to Noma in Copenhagen.
