
Happy camping with Ural's Sportsman package

07 July 2015 | Alex Easthope

Ural Motorcycles' Gear Up is already a rugged machine, designed to partner explorers on the wildest of adventures. Now a new options package has been revealed, dubbed the 'Sportsman', which prepares the bike for camping, in any environment...

Essentials

If you go down to the woods today... you might find a happy camper with his trusty Ural Sportsman. We've featured the Ural Gear Up on Classic Driver before, but felt this significant update was worth highlighting. Included in the Sportsman package are several more, extremely powerful LED headlights (perfect for when that campfire inevitably dies out), protective under-floor guards and bumpers, and a waterproof seat and sidecar covers. So whether you're spending a weekend in the New Forest or several months in the Amazon, you can rely on your Sportsman. And if for whatever reason you encounter any issues, the bike comes with a two-year warranty. Peace of mind - we love it.
