

CLASSIC DRIVER

Worn & Wound’s NATO straps are both durable and desirable

Lead

They began as a failsafe way for watches to remain attached to the wrists of army personnel, even in the most demanding conditions. Now, NATO straps have become a fashion statement – and they don’t come much more stylish than those made by Worn & Wound of New York...

Wear with pride

Worn & Wound’s hand-made straps, which represent a modern take on the classical NATO style, are made from durable Chromexcel Horween leather, and are available in several colours and finishes, including burgundy, navy, olive and crimson. They come in two styles, in 20mm or 22mm sizes, and include all necessary metal hardware. For further information, visit the Worn & Wound website.
