Live the Sicilian Dream in new Targa Florio film

12 September 2015 | Alex Easthope

A new theatrical documentary – slated for release in October and presented by Alain de Cadenet and revered Italian historian, Francesco da Mosto – will explore the legend and intrigue of the Targa Florio, the longest running road race in the world...

The presenters' journey (aboard 'The Cad's' Targa-winning Alfa Romeo 8C, no less) takes them around the picturesque island of Sicily which, along with the famous personalities such as Vincenzo Florio himself, is as much a star of the film as the actual race. With cameo appearances from such racing legends as Jochen Mass, and thoughtful insight and history from Da Mosto (himself half-Sicilian) and other key characters, Pistons, Passions, Pleasures – A Sicilian Dream promises to shed new light on a much-discussed, much-loved topic in motorsport history.
