Sail serenely with the Rand Picnic Sport

Lead

The last thing you want while exploring idyllic coves and crystal clear shores is a noisy diesel motor disturbing the peace. Powered by electricity – supplemented by solar power – the futuristic Rand Picnic Sport can cruise, eight-up, all day long in almost complete silence...

Social focus

Reminding us a little of the wild Wally yachts, the Rand Picnic Sport is aesthetically very clean and simple, and for good reason. Its 'Picnic' name emphasises the social focus of the boat, illustrated by the flat upper deck, central Kebony wood table and rounded seating. And because of its humble electric credentials (just 25 horsepower and a max speed of 13km/h), no special sailing licence is required to operate the boat. With an iPod dock, easy-access bathing platform and a remarkable 700 litres of storage (big enough for the most lavish of picnics), day-long jaunts with your nearest and dearest are suddenly a lot more accessible. We're sure you'll prove the envy of the harbour when you serenely set off, especially when they see the price of the modern tender – from just 12,950 euros...
