Cigarette’s latest boat is a GT3 racer for the water

Inspired by the Mercedes-AMG GT3, the new 41’ SD GT3 is the Cigarette Racing Team’s most powerful ‘open performance’ boat to date...

Smoke on the water

Revealed at the Miami International Boat Show last week, this striking speedboat was built by the Cigarette Racing Team in collaboration with Mercedes-AMG, from whose new GT3 racer it took direct inspiration. Thanks to its dynamic design and two 1100HP Mercury engines, it’s capable of hitting more than 100mph. Other notable features include a marine-grade leather interior, a complete teak wood floor, and the latest navigation and audio systems from Garmin and Cigarette. Just like the Mercedes-AMG GT3 gentleman’s racer, the Cigarette 41’ SD GT3 provides an accessible route into one of the most extreme forms of sailing.
