Forget Sebring; head to the Serengeti in this Porsche 911 instead

Lead

The Porsche 911 is one of the few sports cars to have claimed significant success off-road, as well as on the racetrack. This 1985 Carrera has been extensively modified into an off-road machine, complete with an ultra-cool safari-style roof rack and a tasteful-yet-purposeful rally interior...

Nicknamed the Luftauto, it's set to be sold by RM Sotheby's during Patrick Long's air-cooled Porsche festival Luftgekült in Los Angeles on 10 April 2016, with all proceeds going directly to a cancer-research charity.
