
Dare to explore with this Land Rover Series 3

08 May 2016 | Alex Easthope

Planning a weekend excursion far away from the oppressing commotion of the city? Then seize the chance to be adventurous - there's almost nowhere a classic Land Rover won't go...

In Land Rover We Trust

We've all dreamt of simply packing a bag and hitting the open road, with no real destination in mind. Then why not make that dream a reality? There's arguably no better vehicle in which to do so than a classic Series Land Rover, especially when the going gets rough. This beautifully shot short film from our friends at Cool & Vintage demonstrates why a Land Rover is both a necessity and completely unnecessary. They serve as a reminder that life is more often about the journey rather than the destination. Do you dare to explore?
