Watch a racing driver unleash the brutal Aston Martin V600 Le Mans

Lead

As much as we love the Le Mans 24 Hours, watching the race in its entirety can be a little monotonous. If you have 11 minutes and 41 seconds to spare, you might want to spend it watching a former Works driver testing an Aston Martin whose sobriquet celebrated a memorable triumph in the race...

There are few better people to evaluate the modern-day merits of the Vantage V600 Le Mans than racing driver Sam Hancock, who has participated in the legendary endurance race no fewer than seven times - including a Works campaign for Aston Martin in 2010. His steed, one of the 40 V600s produced, is currently for sale in the Classic Driver Market through marque specialist Nicholas Mee & Company.
