

---

These bathing beauties brought Knightsbridge traffic to a standstill

25 June 2016 | Joe Breeze

From a distance, it might seem this trio of frolicking females was making the most of a short spell of summer sunshine in central London. However, 'they' were actually part of a temporary sculpture installation by Brooklyn-born artist Alex Katz, who is currently holding an exhibition nearby...

The painted-aluminium figurines were seen making a splash the Tadao Ando-designed water feature outside The Connaught Hotel last week, adjacent to which is the Serpentine Gallery holding an exhibition of the artist's work. 'Alex Katz: Quick Light' will run until 3 September.

Photos: Eamonn McCormack

---

<https://www.classicdriver.com/en/article/art/these-bathing-beauties-brought-knightsbridge-traffic-a-standstill>

© Classic Driver. All rights reserved.