There's no lightning without American V8 thunder...

03 July 2016 | Alex Easthope

At its Monterey sale on 19-20 August, RM Sotheby's will offer the Jim Click Ford Performance Collection, comprising six historically significant Fords that represent the very best of the American V8...

Racy romance

The American V8 is something of a celestial object to many enthusiasts (obviously, especially those from across the pond), and the Jim Click Collection - which includes the most winningest Shelby Cobra ever and an authentic Ford GT40 - comprises six of the very best cars to receive the engine. In this gorgeous video by RM, Jim Click romances for one last time about the collection he's curated and lovingly owned for so long. "It's time for me to let somebody else have the fun and enjoy these cars like I have," he explains. Suffice to say, no one's going to steal your thunder while driving any of them. You can find the entire collection, along with the rest of the RM Sotheby's Monterey sale catalogue listed in the Classic Driver Market.
