The artistry behind The Outlierman's luxury travel accessories

Lead

When travelling, we often just grab our bag, throw it in the boot, and head off down the motorway to our next destination. But with The Outlierman's Stylish Globetrotter collection, these handmade, luxury luggage pieces are just too good to go anywhere but pride of place on your passenger seat...

All in the details

To produce such fine quality pieces time after time is no easy task. That's why The Outlierman employs a small-knit team of master artisans to create each accessory and piece of luggage to the highest of standards. From leather cutting and sewing to tapping and assembling, each detail of the creation process is handled with loving and expert care. Whether it be the leather weekender garment bag, habotai silk pocket square, or iconic twill braces, each piece speaks volumes to how much time goes into creating these luxury travelling companions.
