These 10 Ferraris cost less than you'd think...

Lead

A Ferrari needn't cost a big fortune — just a small one, perhaps. These 10 Ferraris listed for sale in the Classic Driver Market for significantly less than 100,00 euros are testament to this...

Although big hitters from Maranello, such as the Ferrari 250 SWB, Daytona, and F40, continue to only be affordable for the most well-heeled of collectors, fear not, as there are some Prancing Horses that can still be wrangled for less. From the numerous iterations of the 308, complete with the delightful V8, to the ever glamorous 365 GT4 and its 400 and 412 successors, the '70s has a lot to offer. Moving into the '80s, the shunned Mondial is now seeing something of a renaissance among the style savvy, and the '90s has also yielded some handsome machinery, such as the 456 GT. For us, the 360 Modena is hard to ignore, as it's currently sitting at a startlingly low price point...
