

CLASSIC DRIVER

Diamond Atelier's latest creations are out-of-the-box custom café racers

Lead

In what is a logical move to satisfy the great international demand for its fabulous custom motorcycles, Diamond Atelier is now offering a three-stage upgrade for the BMW R-series, providing a more accessible entry point to the German brand's signature low-slung café racers...

Your new best friend

Thoughtfully designed in collaboration with BMW Motorcycles' own Julian Weber, the Mark II Series from Diamond Atelier is the minimalist bike lover's new best friend. Offered in three stages of specification, ranging from 20,990 to 27,990 euros, the bikes begin life as either 800cc or 1,000cc BMW 2-Valve Monolevers. As you can see, the changes are extensive yet considered, both cosmetically and mechanically. The quadruplet pictured shows the breadth of the modifications, from the aggressive short-tail body (painted in a plethora of wonderfully retro shades) and the powder-coated wheels to the Supersport 'Upside-Down' forks and the CNC-machined triple clamps. Availability is based on a first-come, first-served basis, so add your name to the waiting list before the mono-headlight humdinger starts haunting your dreams.

Photos: Diamond Atelier

Gallery

Source URL: <https://www.classicdriver.com/en/article/bikes/diamond-ateliers-latest-creations-are-out-box-custom-cafe-racers>
© Classic Driver. All rights reserved.