

CLASSIC DRIVER

Which British Le Mans legend's Porsche 911 would you choose?

Lead

In honour of its trio of British Le Mans winners — Richard Attwood, Derek Bell, and Nick Tandy — Porsche has revealed three limited-edition 911 Carrera 4 GTs to be sold exclusively in the United Kingdom...

Best of British

Richard Attwood in the Salzburg 917K in 1970, Derek Bell in the Rothmans-liveried 956 in 1982, and Nick Tandy in the tech-fest 919 Hybrid in 2015 — it's fair to say the Brits have played an instrumental role in Porsche's unrivalled success at Le Mans. And now, the Stuttgart-based company is paying tribute with three limited-run 911s, each evocative of their respective drivers and their incredible racing cars. Priced at £122,376 — and available solely in the United Kingdom — the British Legend Edition Carrera 4 GTs feature Union Jack symbols and come complete with drivers' signatures, centre-lock wheels, and roundels inspired by their Le Mans-winning cars.

Photos: Porsche

Gallery

Source URL: <https://www.classicdriver.com/en/article/cars/which-british-le-mans-legends-porsche-911-would-you-choose> © Classic Driver. All rights reserved.