These new Automobilst posters will make your days merry and bright

11 December 2017 | Alex Easthope

Czech Republic-based digital art specialist Unique & Limited launched a new brand back in the summer, offering affordable yet high-quality posters to its growing fan base. Labelled Automobilst, it's revealed a new range of automotive artwork just in time for Christmas...

Waste not, want not

Unique & Limited's magical prints that recreate key moments from motorsport history in painstaking photographic and computer-generated detail are well known. But what you might not know is that the studio has started using the beautifully rendered racing cars in a range of spin-off posters, sold under the Automobilst banner. Its newest collections include the legendary Ferrari 412P and the iconic Shelby Cobra — both of which would brighten any office or living room wall this Christmas.
