You can now have your Alfa, Fiat, or Lancia restored by FCA Heritage

The Fiat Chrysler Group has revealed that it will officially offer restorations and certification of authenticity for Alfa Romeo, Fiat, and Lancia under the banner of the FCA Heritage Classic Division...

It feels like there's hardly a car manufacturer that doesn't have its own historical department these days. Now the owners of classic Alfa Romeos, Fiats, and Lancias can look forward to official support from the FCA Group. At Rétromobile in Paris, FCA Heritage showed 1991 Alfa Romeo Spider, a 1973 Lancia Fulvia Coupé Monte-Carlo, a 1989 Alfa Romeo SZ, and a 1959 Lancia Appia Coupé, all restored to the standards you'd expect from such a department. Work on the range is expected to intensify - while some cars will be offered for sale, FCA Heritage's 'scouts' will hunt for special models that shouldn't be missing from the brand's collection.
