

CLASSIC DRIVER

IWC reveals limited-edition Ingenieur at Goodwood

Lead
Coinciding with the launch of its very own historic racing team at Goodwood this weekend, IWC Schaffhausen has revealed a 76th Members’ Meeting special-edition Ingenieur...

Join the club

The IWC Ingenieur Chronograph Sport Edition ‘76th Members’ Meeting at Goodwood’ was revealed today at the historic West Sussex circuit, where the Swiss watchmaker was competing for the first time as a historic racing outfit. Limited to 176 numbered pieces, the 44mm watch is forged from titanium and its automatic movement boasts a power reserve of 46 hours. In a subtle nod to the Members’ Meeting, the movement’s protective ‘cage’ is detailed to look like a brake disc and is emblazoned with the number 76, which is visible through the exhibition case back.

Photos: IWC Schaffhausen

Gallery

Source URL: <https://www.classicdriver.com/en/article/watches/iwc-reveals-limited-edition-ingenieur-goodwood>
© Classic Driver. All rights reserved.