

CLASSIC DRIVER

Are you rich enough to own a piece of Rockefeller history?

19 April 2018 | Jan Baedeker

From 1 to 11 May 2018, Christie's will be auctioning off numerous pieces of artwork, objects, and memorabilia from the Collection of Peggy and David Rockefeller. From money clips to cufflinks, every lot in this auction will make the billionaire's heart beat a little faster...

Although the name of the auction would suggest otherwise, many of the collectables from the Rockefeller family are listed with an opening bid of just a few hundred dollars. And whether you're buying a gold money clip in the form of the Rockefeller Center in New York, two porcelain leopards, the Cartier compact of Abby Aldrich Rockefeller, or an apple-green dessert service, any Rockefeller memento is sure to be a big hit at a dinner party. You can find the entire auction catalogue here.

<https://www.classicdriver.com/en/article/collectables/are-you-rich-enough-own-a-piece-rockefeller-history>

© Classic Driver. All rights reserved.