Description

After the release of the Aurelia B10, the most innovative among all versions has born. Being marked with the abbreviation GT (Gran Turismo), the production of the B20 body was entrusted to Pininfarina, who created one of its most successful stylistic prototypes. Its clean lines and mechanical properties, turned it into the elegant and refined "Italian Gran Turismo", capable of outstanding performances and one of the fastest Italian sports cars of that time. The 2-liter engine can supply up to 75 hp and reaches speeds above 160 km/h, making it a valuable competitor for races.

They built 500 examples of B20 First Series, and it was just like instant market success...

The charming vintage piece we are proposing has been restored several years ago with vivid color, unique shape and flawless condition.

Original interior and carpet, excellent condition.

Car matching number and matching colors.

Perfectly working mechanics, original booklet and ASI certified.
