Description

The introduction of the Fiat 600 in 1955 meant the beginning of the mobility age for the Italian mass. For the first time in their lives, many Italians could afford to have their own car and, as a result, the 600 was a great success from the start.

The exclusive design house Vignale was eager to produce their own interpretation based on the Fiat 600.

The so-called "Rendez vous" was introduced in 1955 and was produced in very small number until 1959. The special car was regularly seen on car shows and the tight lines did remind of the Lancia Aurelia B20. The final production number is not entirely known but certainly has not exceed 200 pieces. At the moment, about 20 pieces worldwide seem to exist. Exclusivity offers the little Italian for sure. In addition, the beautiful coupe also runs extremely well and offers a lot related to the investment.

This Fiat 600 Rendez Vous bodied by Vignale is equipped with an Abarth kit. She is very pleasant to drive. It seems that this very special series was produced only very few copies, and that today there would remain only thirty copies in working order.

The model we present is entirely original, and has all these historical records since 1956.

She has recently participated in several Concours d'Elegance in Europe and Switzerland, she has her FIVA passport, and she is registered in Switzerland.

This is a very beautiful and very rare model that could easily enhance the collection for fans and connoisseurs of Fiat.

For any visits or tests, the car is visible in our offices in Duillier, and for more information or photos, do not hesitate to contact us.
