Description

---

Guide price: £35000 - £40000.

- The Generation 2 C4s was introduced in 2008 with 3.8-litres and four-wheel drive from the 997 Turbo
  - Classically finished in Guards Red with a Black Leather interior and fitted with the 6-speed manual gearbox
  - From the private collection of a fastidious enthusiast who has owned it for seven years
  - The option box was well and truly ticked when ordered from new (see our Website)
  - Total mileage today is now 45,000 and a service is due soon, although the MoT is valid until April 2019
  - A normally-aspirated engine, manual gearbox and four-wheel drive-the perfect 911 experience
- The 911 has been with us for well over 50 years now and still represents the pinnacle of performance driving on the road. The 997 model, particularly the Generation II cars, continue to command respect and a strong following as one of the best versions to drive, particularly when fitted with the manual 6-speed gearbox. Offered here directly from an enthusiastic private vendor, who is only the second owner, is a Porsche 911 (997 Gen II) 4S with the manual 6-speed gearbox finished in traditional Guards Red with a black leather interior. Acquired by him from Porsche Centre Silverstone in July 2011 with a mileage at the time of 16,772, the car has since been well looked after and maintained at main Porsche dealerships. The total mileage today is now 45,000 and the car drives well but is approaching a service, although the MoT is valid until April 2019. In addition to the standard specification the following options were factory fitted: 19 inch Sport Design Wheels, Adaptive Sports seats, Automatic dimming interior mirror and exterior mirrors with integrated rain sensor, Bose surround sound, carbon interior package, door entry guards in stainless steel, extended navigation system, floor mats, heated seats, cruise control, Homelink, instrument dials in Carrera White, limited slip rear differential lock, park assist, Porsche crest on head restraints, rear centre console in leather, rear wiper, seat belts in red, sports seat backrests in leather, telephone module, 3 spoke multi-function wheel, Universal audio interface, voice control, wheel centre set and a windscreen with grey top tint! In this price range, the car looks superb value for money. It is, after all, one of the last of the normally aspirated engines which, when combined with the manual gearbox and four-wheel drive, offer that classic 911 driving experience.
