Your sports car wants to spend its holidays in Mallorca in 2019

Lead

Mallorca is not only a location for beautiful beaches and great cuisine – you'll also find some of the most scenic driving roads in Europe on the Balearic island, as documented by Curves magazine in its latest issue...

Mallorca as a holiday destination is certainly not an insider's tip, but photographer Stefan Bogner believes the island is primarily known for all the wrong reasons. For him, the twisting roads in the hinterland and mountainous north are what Mallorca owes its charm to. During a recent tour around the island and through the Serra de Tramuntana, he captured the sensational imagery for the latest issue of Curves. And we wouldn't be surprised if some of the routes are a surprise even to the most frequent of visitors to Mallorca. We recommend ordering the new issue as soon as possible and book a car ferry to Palma for early summer – trust us, your sports car will be eternally grateful.
