Description

For sale is this very beautiful restored BMW 1802 touring in its original colour combination of inca orange with grey skai/velours interior.

everything on this car has been restored, starting with a bare metal body. the paintwork has been done professionally to a high standard. no welding on the body, what is unique for this type of cars. All mechanics are original and in perfect condition, the brightwork is also original with no signs of pitting. The interior has been restored, using original fabric.

With only 975 cars of this type build, this is a solid investment and in this condition very hard to find. It runs and drives as it looks, perfect!

Currently on German papers, but delivery possible to every country.
